Sandy Springs Mayor Eva Galambos, right, with High Point Elementary School Principal Lisa Nash, recently visited the school during an assembly. High Point third-graders worked with the Rotary Club of Sandy Springs to become acquainted with "Words of Government." Students participated in activities involving the levels of government, recognition of U.S. presidents and campaigning for elected office. Students acquired new vocabulary through dictionaries that were generously donated to each third-grader by the Rotary Club. The civics lesson culminated with Ms. Galambos' visit.
